INTERESTS

Snowboarding: I live next to a ski station and I used to ride in club.

New technologies: Technologies (Hardware/Software) are evolving so fast nowadays, and it really impresses me.

LO-FI music: I did not know this type of music two years ago, but it is what relaxes me the most and boost my productivity.

JOB OBJECTIVE

I am a French computer science student (currently in second year) with a passion for everything related to high-tech. I realize how data is important for companies and I would like to improve my skills and my knowledge in this area through professional experience to become a data scientist. My hard working and my social skills make me able to adapt easily to what the companies are asking for.
